

LOS ANGELES YACHT CLUB®

Wednesday Luncheon Program – JULY 2017, noon to 1:30 p.m.

July 12

Mike Price: Ullman Sails

A lifelong sailor and adventurer, Mike has been involved in the sailmaking industry for the last ten years, developing a wide variety of skills. He has worked for Hyde, North Sails, and presently works in the sales department at Ullman Sails in Newport Beach, ensuring that any repairs, re-cuts, or any service work is completed in a timely manner and to the highest quality standards. Mike enjoys working with customers to achieve their sailing goals. He will chronicle the history of sailmaking for us, how he got into it, and will also talk about how industry trends will affect the way we outfit our yachts.

Natalie Rankin: SoCal Boat Show

Natalie has kindled her interest in the marine industry since her first job at Boating Magazine. She is dedicated to promoting recreational boating on the West Coast by producing interactive, educational, and entertaining consumer events. A relationship builder and creative problem solver, Natalie's positive energy has fueled her success. We will see the results of her efforts again at the 2017 SoCal Boat Show, Sept 28-October 1, in San Pedro.

Stephen Cheung: World Trade Center Los Angeles.

Stephen Cheung is president of The World Trade Center, Los Angeles (WTCLA), the leading international trade resource in the Los Angeles region. Working to support the development of international trade and business opportunities for Southern California companies, he is successfully moving LA forward into the global marketplace. He will be with us to talk about the Port of LA, and its role in the American economy through the goods that pass through our port and city. He will also talk about trade with other countries and the role that local maritime efforts play, especially through the Port of LA, in that expansion.
